The grading system for academic performance appears above. Unless otherwise indicated, each grade earned is calculated into the student's cumulative grade point average (CGPA) and the credits assigned for the course taken are included in the calculation of total credit hours attempt.

* Grade not calculated into cumulative grade point average (CGPA) but course hours are included in total credits attempted.

 Grade not calculated in CGPA, and course hours are not included in total credits attempted.

Repeated Courses

If a student is awarded a grade lower than a C in a bachelor's or associate's course, or less than a B in a master's course, they should repeat the course. If they have been awarded a passing grade for a course, they will not be allowed to repeat that course. Students should repeat any failed courses to improve their cumulative grade point average. For example, if a bachelor's student receives a C-, and upon repeating the course receives an A, the C- will count toward the term GPA when it was awarded, and the A will also count toward the term GPA in which it was awarded. Both grades count toward the student's CGPA. Both attempts will count towards the student's total attempted credits. If the student receives another failing grade when repeating a course, both will count toward their CGPA, and toward each respective term GPA.

Incomplete (Grades of I)

If a student receives a grade of "I", he or she must successfully complete the required work for the course within a time limit established by the instructor and communicated to the student, no longer than 10 business days after the grade of "I" was received. It is the student's responsibility to follow up with the instructor to complete the course work. If the course work is not completed with the established time limit, the "I" grade becomes an "F". A grade of "I" has no effect on students' cumulative grade point average or on their ability to successfully complete the term. However, a grade of "I" does count toward the amount of attempted credit hours allowed within the maximum timeframe from program completion.

TR Grade

A grade of TR is awarded for approved transfer credits completed by the student at another institution. Neither the course grades nor their respective credits are included in the student's CGPA or their total attempted credits. The total number of transferred credits is deducted from the total number of credits necessary to complete the program. The maximum time frame (MTF) for a transfer student is 1.5 times the total hours considered necessary to complete the program.

W Grade

If the last day of attendance is in the first half of the term (weeks 2 to 7), a grade of "W" will be awarded. In this case, this grade will not be calculated as part of SAP. If the last day of attendance is in the second half of the term (weeks 8 to 15), students may receive:

WP Grade

A student who formally withdraws from the institution during the second half of a course, and who has a grade point average of 2.5 or higher at the time of withdrawal will be assigned a grade of WP for the course. A grade of WP is not included as part of the CGPA, and the course credits are not included as part of the student's total attempted credits. In these cases, the institution's established refund policy applies.

WF Grade

A student who formally withdraws from the institution or ceases to attend during the second half of a course, and who has a grade point average lower than 2.5 at the time of withdrawal will be assigned a grade of WF for the course. A Grade of WF is included as part of the CGPA, and the course credits are included as part of the student's total attempted credits. In these cases, the institution's established refund policy applies.
